

I pulled some nice old red oak off an old horse-feeding shed in South Asheville, then found a red oak live edge slab in Horseshoe. They were about the right size to make a small writing desk. I made the legs out of the same red oak and gave them a slightly splayed look, reminiscent of the mid-century modern designs.

50 inches long, 31 inches high, about 24 inches deep. Wood top is about 1 ¼ inch thick.
