

We found this neat idea for building a standing ice chest made out of pallet wood and a conventional ice chest-cooler. The rustic look is perfect for the patio, garage, or man-cave. The top opens and closes like a conventional ice chest and the table size is convenient for your thirsty guests. The lower shelf is great for storing additional beverages, cups, etc. We added a bottle opener so you are ready to serve in style!

We also make these in different sizes and styles. Pictured is the standard sized cooler.
