

VITA NOVA SALVAGE

Although what we mostly do is bring new life to vintage finds, we sometimes fill special requests. An ice cream shop had opened in western Washington state – they asked us to make a very specialized check-out counter. The owner needed a counter height area (36" high) for checking out sales and making change from a cash drawer. They also had a special needs worker who required a table height area (30" high) to accommodate his wheelchair. But they only had 45" of width to fit the entire counter. So we made them one with two work areas. The top is pallet wood, the legs I pulled off an old dining table, and the rest of the parts are salvaged wood from a home construction site. Then we distress-painted the horizontal surfaces in the teal color of the ice creams shop's logo.

44" wide, 24" deep and both 30" and 36" high. This one-of-kind piece but could have multiple uses.
