

Everybody likes Lineberry carts, those industrial rolling carts with heavy cast iron wheels. They make great coffee tables. They usually sell for around $250 each, or more if in really great condition. We found some old heavy steel castors at a local junkyard, added some pallet wood, black metal accents and distressed paint. The result is a very Lineberry-like cart, which will make a great coffee table for your living room or man-cave.

Roughly 54 inches long, 30 inches wide, 16 inches tall.
