

Old pallets make great furniture because they have such varied patinas from different degrees of usage and weathering. This pallet wood came from the Fletcher/Arden area and had various industrial and commercial uses. The top and low shelf are made from pallet slats; the legs and cross braces are made from the pallet arms, with the indentations for the forklift left intact.

This would make a great entry table, TV table, or sofa table – 36 inches high, 36 inches wide, about 18 inches deep. A great way to add a rustic repurposed look to your home!
