

I salvaged some beautiful oak boards from a farm in Hendersonville. After I joined, planed and glued the oak together, I added some 18" pipe legs, splayed out like the 1950's furniture designs. The result is a nice mid-century modern style coffee table. Industrial design complements any décor and is a great accent piece.

48 inches long, 23 inches wide, 22 inches high. Wood is about 1" thick.
