

We found some great wrought iron stools in Asheville. A welder spent quite a bit of time and effort welding 48 rivets onto some wrought iron bars and bent them into shape. The grey patina of the iron provides that perfect industrial look. So we used some choice pallet wood pieces to create a weathered mosaic top. These are heavy pub-height tables that would look great with any type of décor.

$200 each, or both for $375.