

Classic sewing machine table legs are made of cast iron and make beautiful legs for other sorts of tables. I found an old sewing machine table in Fletcher and reworked it into an accent or porch table. The lumber is repurposed and looks great when shined with a polyurethane finish. Something about the look of lumber with black metal is timeless and works with any décor.

Roughly 36" wide, 18" deep, and 25" tall.

$120