

We bring new life to vintage finds. In Asheville we found an old student cast iron folding desk, the kind used in the early 1900's. We pulled it apart and salvaged the beautiful cast iron legs. Then added a top and a bottom made from scrap hardwood flooring and used lumber; added a wine holder using a honey-stained slat from the original desk; added some black accents, some rolling casters, and a rustic handle. The result is a one-of-a-kind rolling wine butler.

Imagine your guest's reaction when you wheel out this to present their wine choices!
